Written by Yann Gerville-Reache, COO

We're right on the heels of some new tests that we'll be releasing to strengthen our service offering for patient care and our customers' practices. We know you'll love what's coming! Much labor has gone into updating and improving our panels along with preparations to launch various new testing options that will truly spark a great deal of interest. We're also on the final leg in closing on an acquisition that will more than double our capacity to serve. We can't wait to share the news and bring innovations to customers that will help improve patient care as well as efficiency in your practice.

LAB EXPERTISE

While we spoke to this subject last month we found it worthwhile to provide further updates to the MolDX application and approval process. As previously mentioned, Palmetto GBA® announced the implementation of MolDX and heliosDX has submitted the required documentation for application and patiently awaits the approvals of our panels and billing methods. We feel confident about our ability to obtain approval and solidify our expertise. The ability to successfully execute the MolDX requirements for our PCR UTI panel sets the tone and the persistence that we feel is necessary in order to expand our PCR panels even further.

MINDFUL OF THE MONTH

Did you know that around 43 million Americans struggle with a mental illness. One in five adolescents has or will develop a mental illness in their lifetime. We at heliosDX promote the well-being of not only our patients, but our customers and our staff as well. We know that the effects of a mental illness go beyond just the individual. It affects all those around the individual as well. We lift up all those affected whether personally or through a loved one. May you all be strong and safe. heliosDX offers a dedicated Behavioral Health panel to extend our patient care to a segment that is in much need.

GROWTH & EXPANSION

heliosDX is nearing closer to its goals of receiving the funding necessary to make true on its commitments to expand in the diagnostics laboratory space. Our goal is to grow not only our capacity for specimen testing volumes but also the range of services that we will provide. Look for our updates in the near future to explain the additional PCR testing soon to be available as well as new specimen collection methods that we feel will be of great relevance to many practices looking for alternatives to traditional urine collections.
